RECORD VOTE IS SET IN PRIMARY LAST SATURDAY

ALL DISTRICT OFFICERS WERE RE-ELECTED.

Four County Officers To Vie In Run-Off Primary to be Held August 23rd.

Almost the full voting strength of Randall county marched to the polls and voted in the Democratic Primary election on last Saturday, when a total of nearly 2,000 votes were cast to break all previous records of voting in this county.

Little enthusiasm was outwardly manifested among the voters regarding the county contests, and the interest seemed to center around the governor's race.

All district officers who were opposed were re-elected to office. They all led in this county. Two county officers and one precinct officer were returned to office in the primary Saturday. There will be four run-off races among the county officers.

In Randall county, Clint C. Small of Wellington, carried the county in the governor's race by 69.2 percent of all votes cast. He received a total of 1318 votes to lead the field with Mrs. Ferguson second with 276; Love was third with 126 and Sterling, who will be in the run-off with Mrs. Ferguson, was fourth in Randall county, receiving only 55 votes. Other candidates for governor come under the general heading, "they also ran."

In the district offices, there were three present incumbants who had opposition. Marvin Jones, was opposed by James A. Cade for his seat in Congress. In Randall county, Jones received 1505 votes to 304 for Cade.

Judge Henry S. Bishop carried Randall county by 1243 against 652 for Ernest O. Northcutt, for the judgeship of the 47th district.

Edward W. Thomerson received 1,156 votes against 709 for Wm. Leo Sparks in the race for District attorney.

In a field of four in the race for County Judge of Randall county, Worth A. Jennings was first with 636; S. B. Orton, was second with 618; C. A. Flesher, third, with 358; and G. G. Foster, fourth with 303. Jennings and Orton will be in the run-off.

In the race for County and District clerk, Mrs. Berl Mayfield defeated Tracy Service, 1341 to 573.

In the race of Sheriff and Tax Collector, John Fry defeated both opponents, G. W. Johnson and J. E. Mitchell, by a majority of 853, thereby eleminating the possibility of a run-off for that office.

Flannigan H. Smith and Jesse Barker are left to vie for the office of County Attorney, as a result of Saturday's primary. The votes were: Smith, 751; Barker, 873; and Woodard, 255.

In a field of six for the office of Tax Assessor, Burney Slack, led the field by 578 votes, followed by J. H. Prichard, with 437 for sec-

The Midsummer Horse Show at Amarillo, to be held August 2 under the auspices of the Tri-State Fair Association and the Junior Welfare League, has attracted 118 entries in the 15 classes of competitions.

The matinee performance for the horse show, which was originally announced has been cancelled and the entire performance will be given Saturday evening, starting at 7:30 o'clock. The 118 entries in the several classes will be given in one evening of fast entertainment, it is said.

The same prices will prevail, 75c for adults and 25 cents for children in the grandstand and $1.50 each for box seats. There will be 250 unreserved seats for 50 cents each. Most of the boxes have been sold and the others are going fast.

Museum Project Is Gaining Wide-Spread Attention

Much wide-spread publicity is being given the work of the Panhandle-Plains Historical Society, not only in this section, but the entire state. Numerous stories have been carried recently in papers down state regarding the efforts of the society to raise funds to erect the proposed building to house the collections of the Society.

The issue of the Fort Worth Star-Telegram last Sunday carried a story regarding recent donations to the ever growing collections of the Society. Anouncement was made regarding a series of stories that the Star-Telegram will publish dealing with all phases of the museum and the work of the Society.

In commenting upon the museum, the Star-Telegram said, "A visit to this museum is well worth the time of any Texan."

Increasing interest is being shown all the time toward the new building, L. F. Sheffy field secretary of the Society states. Plans are going forward for the ground breaking for the new building, work on it to begin in September.

Stop Cars That Have No Lights

Four Canyon people are badly injured, and a good automobile was wrecked in a collision with a truck standing on the highway without lights.

This practice of driving with insufficient lights should be stopped. Randall county has traffic officers to stop such practices. They are human, and have been lenient. But the time has now come when drastic action should be taken.

Trucks, many of them road hogs, have become a menace to life on the highways.

One-eyed cars, and some without lights are using the highways and the streets. It is all right for them to risk their lives by such practice, but they have no right to endanger the lives of others.

The law is ample to protect those who use the highways. Let it be enforced without fear or favor.

Bargains Sold At Trades Day, Grain Show is Planned

Bargains went begging in Canyon Monday at the regular monthly Trades Day of the Canyon Chamber of Commerce, when the people of the Canyon trade territory bought everything from sugar to cars and tractors at their own price.

The merchants of Canyon offered good merchandise in almost every line to the highest bidder. The merchandise that was sold to the people of this vicinity under the hammer was bought at bargain prices. This was the outstanding feature of Trades Day. Besides the auction sale of merchandise from the stores of Canyon farmers were privileged to bring anything they wanted to sell and the services of the auctioneer were furnished free.

Free coffee and sandwiches were served by the Canyon Chamber of Commerce, Monday afternoon. The coffee was furnished free by the Waples Platter Gro. Co. and the coffee was made by the Palace Cafe free of charge. The Palo Duro Cafe donated the services of their force in making the sandwiches that were served.

The Chamber of Commerce officials express their sincere thanks to the merchants who aided to make the day successful by the donation of goods to be auctioned.

A very large and attentive audience attended the concert given by the Buffalo Band, under the direction of C. E. Strain, on the court house lawn Monday night, as a concluding feature of the Trades Day.

Small Grain Show Planned

A small grain show is being planned for the next monthly Trades Day which will be August 25. Prizes will be offered in various classes of small grains including wheat, oats, barley, rye, etc. The announcement is made this far in advance in order that the farmers may be prepared in selecting the grain to be displayed and entered in competition for the prizes. It is believed that the majority of the grain in this section is still in the hands of the farmers and they will be given an opportunity to show the high grade of products grown in Randall county.

A treasure hunt lasting for three months is planned to begin for the next Trades Day and the details for it will be announced several days prior to the next Trades Day, according to Secretary L. N. George of the Chamber of Commerce.

SUMMER TERM OF COURT TO OPEN MONDAY

FEW INTERESING CASES ON LONG DOCKET.

A Murder Case on Docket From Last Term; Four Suits For Divorce.

The summer term of the 47th District Court, which will be opened here Monday Morning, with Judge Henry S. Bishop, veteran of the bench presiding, will face the heaviest docket of a summer term of court seen here in several summers. Few of the cases are predicted to arouse much interest in the usual crowds that attend such legal proceedings, but there are numerous smaller cases which necessarily make the business of the court long and drawn out.

Among the criminal cases pending from the last term of court is one charge of murder, two cases of alleged liquor law violations and two theft charges.

The trial of J. M. Hughes, charged with murder in connection with a shooting which took place in the south part of Amarillo and in Randall county, was postponed from the winter term of court. The shooting occurred last fall. The failure of a witness of the State to appear at the court was the cause of the postponement of the trial.

The appearance bond of J. A. Allen charged with the violation of liquor laws, has been foreclosed and final proceedings will be carried out unless he appears for trial at this term of court.

Among the civil suits pending on the docket of the court, are six foreclosure suits; five of these are naming Kathaleen F. Hall as defendent. There is one suit for commission, one suit for an injunction, one suit for payment of a note and one suit for taxes.

The case of O. L. Smith and J. W. Green vs. R. E. Baird estate for commission was tried in the last term of court and the judgment rendered. However the motion filed by the plaintiffs to have the judgment and verdict set aside, was granted by the court.

The suit of Randall county against the City of Amarillo for delinquent taxes is expected to come up for trial at this term of court, unless an agreement is reached this week. The case was discussed at a meeting of the Commissioners court Tuesday of this week. The City of Amarillo has proposed to pay the delinquent taxes provided the penalties already assessed are removed. The commissioners court did not agree to the proposal of the City of Amarillo, when in session Tuesday.

Among the new civil cases on the court docket for disposal at this term, are 9 damage suits. Four of these are outgrowths of car accidents. Ten suits have been filed for foreclosures on property. Two suits are cancel contracts. There are four divorce suits and two suits for the division of the property.

There is one suit for commission and one suit to clear titles to property; two suits for payment of notes, and two suits for debts on the civil docket of the court.

Large Crowd At Election Party Given By News

A crowd estimated at 300 attended the election party of the News Saturday night in front of the News building. Information regarding the returns of both local and state races were given out. Standings of state candidates were furnished by radio and wire reports of the Texas Election bureau.

RECORD VOTE IS SET IN PRIMARY LAST SATURDAY

ALL DISTRICT OFFICERS WERE RE-ELECTED.

Four County Officers To Vie In Run-Off Primary to be Held August 23rd.

Almost the full voting strength of Randall county marched to the polls and voted in the Democratic Primary election on last Saturday, when a total of nearly 2,000 votes were cast to break all previous records of voting in this county.

Little enthusiasm was outwardly manifested among the voters regarding the county contests, and the interest seemed to center around the governor's race.

All district officers who were opposed were re-elected to office. They all led in this county. Two county officers and one precinct officer were returned to office in the primary Saturday. There will be four run-off races among the county officers.

In Randall county, Clint C. Small of Wellington, carried the county in the governor's race by 69.2 percent of all votes cast. He received a total of 1318 votes to lead the field with Mrs. Ferguson second with 276; Love was third with 126 and Sterling, who will be in the run-off with Mrs. Ferguson, was fourth in Randall county, receiving only 55 votes. Other candidates for governor come under the general heading, "they also ran."

In the district offices, there were three present incumbants who had opposition. Marvin Jones, was opposed by James A. Cade for his seat in Congress. In Randall county, Jones received 1505 votes to 304 for Cade.

Judge Henry S. Bishop carried Randall county by 1243 against 652 for Ernest O. Northcutt, for the judgeship of the 47th district.

Edward W. Thomerson received 1,156 votes against 709 for Wm. Leo Sparks in the race for District attorney.

In a field of four in the race for County Judge of Randall county, Worth A. Jennings was first with 636; S. B. Orton, was second with 618; C. A. Flesher, third, with 358; and G. G. Foster, fourth with 303. Jennings and Orton will be in the run-off.

In the race for County and District clerk, Mrs. Berl Mayfield defeated Tracy Service, 1341 to 573.

In the race of Sheriff and Tax Collector, John Fry defeated both opponents, G. W. Johnson and J. E. Mitchell, by a majority of 853, thereby eleminating the possibility of a run-off for that office.

Flannigan H. Smith and Jesse Barker are left to vie for the office of County Attorney, as a result of Saturday's primary. The votes were: Smith, 751; Barker, 873; and Woodard, 255.

In a field of six for the office of Tax Assessor, Burney Slack, led the field by 578 votes, followed by J. H. Prichard, with 437 for sec-

Bargains Sold At Trades Day, Grain Show is Planned

Bargains went begging in Canyon Monday at the regular monthly Trades Day of the Canyon Chamber of Commerce, when the people of the Canyon trade territory bought everything from sugar to cars and tractors at their own price.

The merchants of Canyon offered good merchandise in almost every line to the highest bidder. The merchandise that was sold to the people of this vicinity under the hammer was bought at bargain prices. This was the outstanding feature of Trades Day. Besides the auction sale of merchandise from the stores of Canyon farmers were privileged to bring anything they wanted to sell and the services of the auctioneer were furnished free.

Free coffee and sandwiches were served by the Canyon Chamber of Commerce, Monday afternoon. The coffee was furnished free by the Waples Platter Gro. Co. and the coffee was made by the Palace Cafe free of charge. The Palo Duro Cafe donated the services of their force in making the sandwiches that were served.

The Chamber of Commerce officials express their sincere thanks to the merchants who aided to make the day successful by the donation of goods to be auctioned.

A very large and attentive audience attended the concert given by the Buffalo Band, under the direction of C. E. Strain, on the court house lawn Monday night, as a concluding feature of the Trades Day.

Small Grain Show Planned

A small grain show is being planned for the next monthly Trades Day which will be August 25. Prizes will be offered in various classes of small grains including wheat, oats, barley, rye, etc. The announcement is made this far in advance in order that the farmers may be prepared in selecting the grain to be displayed and entered in competition for the prizes. It is believed that the majority of the grain in this section is still in the hands of the farmers and they will be given an opportunity to show the high grade of products grown in Randall county.

A treasure hunt lasting for three months is planned to begin for the next Trades Day and the details for it will be announced several days prior to the next Trades Day, according to Secretary L. N. George of the Chamber of Commerce.

Rotarians Hear From Bill Bryant

A. H. (Bill) Bryant entertained the members of the Rotary Club Tuesday at the regular weekly luncheon with a chronological autobiography, ending with his appreciation at being able to return to Canyon to make his home. Bill has the distinction of being the only Rotarian in Canyon who has held membership at two different times, and under two different classifications. Born in the Ozarks of Missouri, he spent much of his early life various parts of the West, finally arriving in Canyon as local manager of the West Texas Gas Co. He went to Plainview from here, returning to become manager of the Texas Utilities Co.

Visitors and guests present Tuesday were: Ed Enochs, Wilbur C. Hawks, S. F. Sullenberger, E. W. Roffey, Ben Anderson, John S. McKnight, J. A. Rogers, all of Amarillo; W. E. Bennett, county commissioner, R. R. Sewell of Fortworth; R. F. Quinlan of Plainview.

FEW INTERESING CASES ON LONG DOCKET.

A Murder Case on Docket From Last Term; Four Suits For Divorce.

The summer term of the 47th District Court, which will be opened here Monday Morning, with Judge Henry S. Bishop, veteran of the bench presiding, will face the heaviest docket of a summer term of court seen here in several summers. Few of the cases are predicted to arouse much interest in the usual crowds that attend such legal proceedings, but there are numerous smaller cases which necessarily make the business of the court long and drawn out.

Among the criminal cases pending from the last term of court is one charge of murder, two cases of alleged liquor law violations and two theft charges.

The trial of J. M. Hughes, charged with murder in connection with a shooting which took place in the south part of Amarillo and in Randall county, was postponed from the winter term of court. The shooting occurred last fall. The failure of a witness of the State to appear at the court was the cause of the postponement of the trial.

The appearance bond of J. A. Allen charged with the violation of liquor laws, has been foreclosed and final proceedings will be carried out unless he appears for trial at this term of court.

Among the civil suits pending on the docket of the court, are six foreclosure suits; five of these are naming Kathaleen F. Hall as defendent. There is one suit for commission, one suit for an injunction, one suit for payment of a note and one suit for taxes.

The case of O. L. Smith and J. W. Green vs. R. E. Baird estate for commission was tried in the last term of court and the judgment rendered. However the motion filed by the plaintiffs to have the judgment and verdict set aside, was granted by the court.

The suit of Randall county against the City of Amarillo for delinquent taxes is expected to come up for trial at this term of court, unless an agreement is reached this week. The case was discussed at a meeting of the Commissioners court Tuesday of this week. The City of Amarillo has proposed to pay the delinquent taxes provided the penalties already assessed are removed. The commissioners court did not agree to the proposal of the City of Amarillo, when in session Tuesday.

Among the new civil cases on the court docket for disposal at this term, are 9 damage suits. Four of these are outgrowths of car accidents. Ten suits have been filed for foreclosures on property. Two suits are cancel contracts. There are four divorce suits and two suits for the division of the property.

There is one suit for commission and one suit to clear titles to property; two suits for payment of notes, and two suits for debts on the civil docket of the court.

Much wide-spread publicity is being given the work of the Panhandle-Plains Historical Society, not only in this section, but the entire state. Numerous stories have been carried recently in papers down state regarding the efforts of the society to raise funds to erect the proposed building to house the collections of the Society.

The issue of the Fort Worth Star-Telegram last Sunday carried a story regarding recent donations to the ever growing collections of the Society. Anouncement was made regarding a series of stories that the Star-Telegram will publish dealing with all phases of the museum and the work of the Society.

In commenting upon the museum, the Star-Telegram said, "A visit to this museum is well worth the time of any Texan."

Increasing interest is being shown all the time toward the new building, L. F. Sheffy field secretary of the Society states. Plans are going forward for the ground breaking for the new building, work on it to begin in September.

Stop Cars That Have No Lights

Four Canyon people are badly injured, and a good automobile was wrecked in a collision with a truck standing on the highway without lights.

This practice of driving with insufficient lights should be stopped. Randall county has traffic officers to stop such practices. They are human, and have been lenient. But the time has now come when drastic action should be taken.

Trucks, many of them road hogs, have become a menace to life on the highways.

One-eyed cars, and some without lights are using the highways and the streets. It is all right for them to risk their lives by such practice, but they have no right to endanger the lives of others.

The law is ample to protect those who use the highways. Let it be enforced without fear or favor.

THE PRIMARY ELECTION.

The primary election was a surprise in many respects, and a distinct disappointment in others. On the whole, the results had been so nearly accurately forecast that there was no great surprise if the real facts and figures were taken into consideration.

West Texas was disappointed that Senator Clint Small did not make the second primary. But the disappointment was softened by the fact that Senator Small ran a strong third, and is now recognized as one of the outstanding men in the state-wide political field. Entering the race for governor with no state wide acquaintance, he outstripped the field of old timers, and had there been more time for him to campaign down state, he would have no doubt made the second primary. He had no great organization in every section as did the Fergusons or Sterling, with his 5,000 highway department employes in every county in the state. Clint Small had to fight for every vote that he received outside of West Texas. The greatest tribute possible for any man was paid Senator Small by his friends and neighbors of West Texas where he rolled up a tremendous majority over his ten opponents. Word was scattered over the state that West Texas would not stay with their friend, but the fallacy was quickly disproven Saturday when the returns started to roll in. Every county rolled up a great lead for Small.

We do not know whether or not Senator Small will ever again aspire to make the race for Governor, but if he does, he is now in better position than he was in 1930 with the large field of candidates, and many conflicting questions. The News shall take great pleasure in again fighting for him if he ever decides to become a candidate for we know his worth as a man.

Another disappointing feaure of the campaign, issues were entirely forgotten, and personalities indulged in to a greater extent than is good for the state. Mr. Sterling ran on a one-plank platform, which is not an issue, and cannot be an issue until passed to the people by the legislature. He barely mentioned the great problems of the state, which need the attention of the chief executive. If he becomes governor, we hope that he will recognize as chief executive that there are other departments of state than the highway department.

Mrs. Ferguson's only plea was that she be returned to office in order to clear the name of Ferguson before the people. Of course Farmer Jim had something else to say, and will have more to say during the coming primary.

A distinct surprise to all of the voters was the great lead gained by Mrs. Ferguson. Political observers had maintained that the high candidate would be lucky to receive 160,000 votes, and the next in line would receive about 140,000 votes. Mrs. Ferguson is leading with about 210,000, which will probably increased to about 215,000 in the official returns, thus giving the Fergusons one of the heaviest votes they have ever received in a first primary. Many counties which have never before gone for Ferguson are now found in the Ferguson column.

It was estimated that the third high candidate would be only a few thousand votes under the runner-up. Sterling lead Small by about 37,000 votes.

The great big surprise came in the second group of four candidates who were considered to be well bunched, and only with a little difference in number. Here again the guessers were wrong. Love lead the second group with 34,000 over Miller, who fell into seventh place, and was the great surprise of the race. Governor Miller is perhaps the greatest surprised man, and probably the most disappointed candidate for Governor that Texas has ever had. He was absolutely confident of a place in the second primary. He was sure that he could win by the same means that he had been elected lieutenant governor for three terms that is, relying upon his friends to vote—rather than carrying on an intensive campaign. But Barry Miller was traveling in different company this time. The candidate who is elected governor must make a hard fight in Texas, and the result of Miller's seventh place vote shows the result.

The most refreshing features of the primary is the utter routing of the old politicians, Love, Mayfield and Miller. Young is a good man, but a unknown congressman with no state-wide acquaintance. Love found out that those who voted for Hoover two years ago were either disappointed in this Hoover prosperity, or had come to the conclusion that they were really voting for Hoover, rather than for Tom Love, which this foxy old politician attempted to make them believe.

At any rate, Texas is almost certain to have heard the last of Love, Young, Miller and Mayfield, so far as state politics are concerned.

Just how many thousands of dollars it cost to have the names of C. C. Moody, Loven, Putnam and Walker on the ticket, no one will ever know. The four received a total of about 10,000 votes. They considered their race as a joke. The state executive committee should have the power to keep from the ticket candidates who just place their names there in order to muddy the water, to slow up election returns, and cost thousands of dollars for telegraph tolls on election night.

What about the second primary?

Can Sterling beat Ferguson?

Mr. Average Voter answers most emphatically, Yes.

It has been said that anyone could defeat Ferguson in a second primary, but Mrs. Ferguson once defeated Felix Robertson in one of the hottest campaigns Texas has ever had.

You will see some action during the coming month. Ferguson took it easy during the first primary. He thought he knew that he had enough friends to put Mrs. Ferguson in the second round. He will now jump right into the middle of the fight.

Meanwhile Sterling and his friends will not be idle. They realize that Ferguson is a fighter, and wants to win this fight. Governor Dan Moody announced Sunday that he would take the stump for either Sterling or Small, against Fergusonism. It is expected that most of the defeated candidates will line up for Sterling. West Texas will go into the Sterling camp almost as solidly as it stood behind Small. There will be a determined stand made all over the state to defeat Ferguson, and the indications are that it will be done by a good majority.

But in the course of a month things will be happening, politically, in Texas.

STUDENT ASST'S. FOR NEXT YEAR ARE SELECTED

VARIOUS DEPARTMENT HEADS ANNOUNCE STUDENT WORKERS FOR COMING TERM; MANY ARE NEW.

Various departments in the college are having to fill student assistantships with new individuals for the year 1930-31 due to graduations and withdrawals from school.

Miss Neville Wren will continue her work in the chemistry department as student assistant through the 1930-31 terms. She has served in like capacity for the past year.

Miss Wren will be a senior this fall. She has done all her college work here, majoring in chemistry under Dr. Pierle. Her home is at Memphis where she has had several years teaching experience in the junior high school math department. After finishing next spring, Miss Wren will resume her teaching, this time in chemistry rather than mathematics.

L. S. Baker, head of the biology department, announces a new assistant to fill the vacancy made by Miss Eula Tucker's graduation this summer, Herman Troutman.

He will be a junior this fall, his second year at W. T. His freshman work was done at Colorado Colleg in Colorado Springs, Colo. His home is at Dumas. Troutman is a biology major and has shown much innate knowledge of the science.

Maintaining almost an "A" average in physics has won for Victor Dunlap the student assistantship in that department. He succeeds Susan Meador who received her degree in May. Dunlap has finished two years of work here. His home is in Quanah.

Mildred Wheat, whose home is in Canyon and who is a graduate of the college training school, will hold the assistantship in the commercial department.

Miss Wheat will be a sophomore this year. While in training school she was editor of "The Tumble Weed," the high school column.

George Launches Ex-Student Assoc. Membership Drive

L. N. George, Secretary of the Ex-Student Association, during the past several weeks, has launched an extensive campaign for members.

He, as well as others interested in the organizing factors, have spoken at both Randall and Cousins Halls in the interest of the association. Mr. George has also visited a number of boarding houses where he spoke to students and assisted them in plans for heading as many of next year's high school graduates toward West Texas as is possible.

According to Mr. George, students who are going out to teach this fall are falling in line and showing a real enthusiasm in the Ex-Student Association and its work. The townspeople in whose homes he has visited have shown a willingness to co-operate with with him, realizing the benefits of atracting new students to this college.

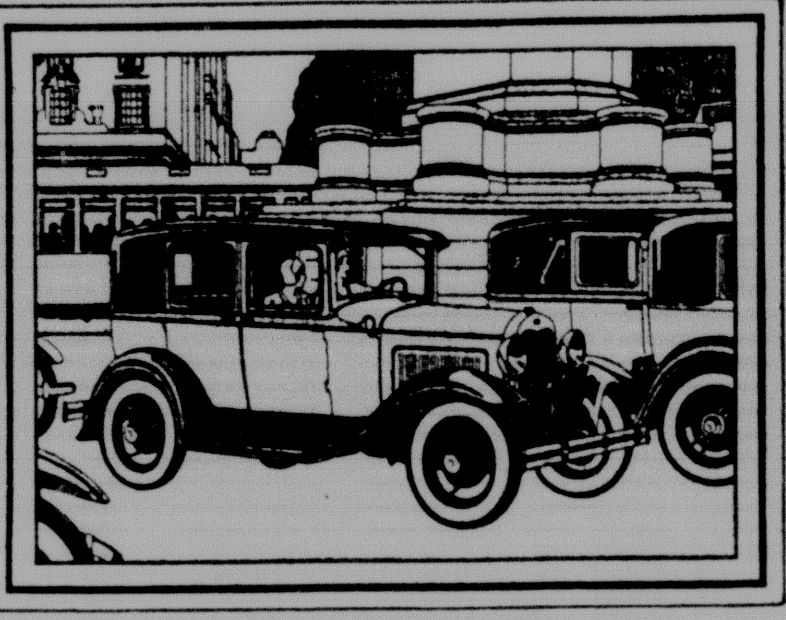
Meeting the Needs of Millions of People



The low-priced automobile has brought greater opportunity and added hours of recreation to millions of men and women.

BECAUSE the automobile is such an important factor in the lives and prosperity of so many people, the purpose of the Ford Motor Company is something more than the mere manufacture of a motor car.

There is no service in simply setting up a machine or a plant and letting it turn out goods. The service extends into every detail of the business — design, production, the wages paid and the selling price. All are a part of the plan.

The Ford Motor Company looks upon itself as charged with making an automobile that will meet the needs of millions of people and to provide it at a low price. That is its mission. That is its duty and its obligation to the public.

The search for better ways of doing things is never-ending. There is ceaseless, untiring effort to find new methods and new machines that will save steps and time in manufacturing. The Ford plants are, in reality, a great mechanical university, dedicated to the advancement of industry. Many manufacturers come to see and share the progress made.

The greatest progress comes by never standing still. Today's methods, however successful, can never be taken as wholly right. They represent simply the best efforts of the moment. Tomorrow must bring an improvement in the methods of the day before. Hard work usually finds the way.

Once it was thought impossible to cast gray iron by the endless chain method. All precedent was against it and every previous experiment had failed. But fair prices to the public demanded that wasteful methods be eliminated. Finally the way was found.

A better way of making axle shafts saved thirty-six million dollars in four years. A new method of cutting crankcases reduced the cost by $500,000 a year. The perfection of a new machine saved a similar amount on such a little thing as one bolt. Then electric welding was developed to make many bolts unnecessary and to increase structural strength.

Just a little while ago, an endless chain conveyor almost four miles long was installed at the Rouge plant. This conveyor has a daily capacity of 300,000 parts weighing more than 2,000,000 pounds. By substituting the tireless, unvarying machine for tasks formerly done by hand, it has made the day's work easier for thousands of workers and saved time and money in the manufacture of the car.

All of these things are done in the interest of the public — so that the benefits of reliable, economical transportation may be placed within the means of every one.

There is no service in simply setting up a machine or a plant and letting it turn out goods. The service extends into every detail of the business — design, production, the wages paid and the selling price. All are a part of the plan.

The Ford Motor Company looks upon itself as charged with making an automobile that will meet the needs of millions of people and to provide it at a low price. That is its mission. That is its duty and its obligation to the public.

The search for better ways of doing things is never-ending. There is ceaseless, untiring effort to find new methods and new machines that will save steps and time in manufacturing. The Ford plants are, in reality, a great mechanical university, dedicated to the advancement of industry. Many manufacturers come to see and share the progress made.

The greatest progress comes by never standing still. Today's methods, however successful, can never be taken as wholly right. They represent simply the best efforts of the moment. Tomorrow must bring an improvement in the methods of the day before. Hard work usually finds the way.

Once it was thought impossible to cast gray iron by the endless chain method. All precedent was against it and every previous experiment had failed. But fair prices to the public demanded that wasteful methods be eliminated. Finally the way was found.

A better way of making axle shafts saved thirty-six million dollars in four years. A new method of cutting crankcases reduced the cost by $500,000 a year. The perfection of a new machine saved a similar amount on such a little thing as one bolt. Then electric welding was developed to make many bolts unnecessary and to increase structural strength.

Just a little while ago, an endless chain conveyor almost four miles long was installed at the Rouge plant. This conveyor has a daily capacity of 300,000 parts weighing more than 2,000,000 pounds. By substituting the tireless, unvarying machine for tasks formerly done by hand, it has made the day's work easier for thousands of workers and saved time and money in the manufacture of the car.

All of these things are done in the interest of the public — so that the benefits of reliable, economical transportation may be placed within the means of every one.

SOUTHWESTERN ENGRAVING CO. COMPLETES THE PENCIL SKETCHES AND DIVISION PAGES FOR BOOK.

Miss Margaret Sheers, editor of the 1931 Le Mirage, announces that plans for the year book are materializing with rapidity. Such work as it is possible to do now is being done these summer months.

A letter from the Southwestern Engraving Company outlines their part of the work. It also acknowledges the completion of pencil sketches for the opening and division pages.

"After a study of this book and these wonderful photographs, which you submitted, both Mr. Lore and myself arrived at the conclusion that it was best to carry out this idea,—of the early development of the Plains section—and to work out on the subdivisions the modern development of the wheat fields, the coming of oil, etc.

"It is our opinion there is so much romance and a wonderful background of historical events in the Plains section that we became enthused over your wonderful idea, incorporating also the old buildings and the new buildings in the open-pages and have worked with much zest and animation in securing some effects which I am sure will meet with your whole-hearted approval," the letter reads.

OAKLAND
ANNOUNCES THE APPOINTMENT OF
SMITH & SCHMITZ
1600 4th Ave., Canyon, Texas
AS OAKLAND-PONTIAC DEALER

This appointment is in itself a token of the excellent qualifications and responsibility of the new dealer who will sell and service these two automobiles which are outstanding in their respective price fields:

THE NEW OAKLAND EIGHT

This is a General Motors eight-cylinder car priced at only $1025 and up at factory. Its 85-horsepower engine develops one horsepower to every 37 pounds of car weight. That is why few cars can equal its speed, power and acceleration. It is a car with superior performance. It is also a car of exceptional smoothness. And its new bodies by Fisher are splendid examples of smart styling. Yet, with all its outstanding qualities, it is exceptionally economical to own and operate because of its moderate first cost, its sturdy construction, its accessibility of parts and its exceptional gasoline mileage.

THE NEW SERIES PONTIAC BIG SIX

This new and finer Pontiac includes all the big car qualities which made past Pontiacs so widely popular. Yet it is priced at only $745 and up at factory. Its big, powerful 60-horsepower engine — the largest in any six at its price — is smoother than ever because of new-type rubber engine mountings which insulate it from the frame. Improved brakes, a sloping non-glare windshield, Lovejoy Hydraulic Shock Absorbers at no extra cost, and many other features make this newest Pontiac a finer value than ever.

Your new dealer is authorized to give you the full benefit of the GMAC time payment plan. His franchise enables him, furthermore, to sell Good Will Used Cars — reliable, inexpensive transportation backed by a fixed policy of honest value for the customer's dollar.

Come in and examine these two new cars. You are assured a cordial welcome. And we hope you will take the earliest opportunity to become acquainted with your OAKLAND-PONTIAC dealer.

LOWERED RESISTANCE

By John Joseph Gaines, M. D.

I seriously doubt if anybody ever contracts disease when what we call "bodily resistance" is normal. Many of us come in contact with disease germs every day; but because our bodies are functioning normally the infectious germs are unable to find lodging.

The human digestive tract is singularly built to withstand infections. We swallow probably millions of germs, perhaps, in water, milk, raw fruits and other carriers of simple bacteria; these are for the most part promptly destroyed by healthy digestive juices. It is so with domestic animals; they drink and eat much that is impure, yet healthy digestive fluids protect them from disease.

The time, however, when disease producers hop in and make themselves at home is when we are, in general parlance, "run-down" from one cause or another. Over work is a certain invitation to the entrance of disease germs. This means overloading the stomach for protracted periods, wearing down the muscular system by heavy toil, and tearing down the nervous system by consistant grind in these strenuous days. Anything that taxes the system beyond its endurance invites disease, which rarely appears otherwise; so that, when we get sick, we had better cast about for just how we forsook the law of right living.

"Lowered bodily resistance," then is a factor in almost all diseased conditions. The Physician sets in to "clean house" and to restore health by systematic rest for the overworked organs. Unless he can enforce suitable rest, he will have a slow recovery. It never pays to go to work too soon after any illness.

Overwork—overwork! It is foolish. A man may tax his bodily resistance in dissipation— it is overwork just the same, though not in gainful employment. He may habitually lose sleep until his nerves become tired out; disease sets in, and he wonders why. Overdoing may be in pleasureable pursuits entirely. If you are overdoing—quit it before it's to late.

HINTS FOR THE HOME

By NANCY HART

Hot-Weather Cereal

You can use the prepared cereals for very hot weather if you wish to. Many persons really like them better as the start-off of a hot day than cooked cereals. Boiled eggs are as good as any other kind and certainly they are little trouble. To have them tempting be sure to cook them carefully. If your family likes three-minute eggs ,then drop the eggs into actively boiling water and leave them there just three minutes. If they prefer eight-minute coddled eggs then have the water boiling, drop the eggs into it as you remove it from the flame and leave them uncovered for the eight minutes. Don't forget and leave them in fifteen and don't hurriedly draw them out after five minutes.

As a change some hot morning try serving medium thin bread already buttered. In very hot weather butter melts almost immediately on being taken from the refrigerator and a dish of half-melted butter—usually at breakfast in hot weather we are too near the end of the ice to risk chipping off any for the butter dish—is certainly an unsavory thing to look at. The neatly buttered bread slices will prove tempting.

One of the hearty dishes for breakfast that is always appealing in the summer—both to appetite and eye—is an omelet. So if you want something for variety, as a change from boiled eggs—which we have already suggested as being easy to prepare and wholesome to eat—try an omelet.

Nut Cake

One-third cup butter, one cup fine granulated sugar, one and three-quarters cups sifted flour, two and one-half teaspoon baking powder, one-half cup milk, one-half cup chopped nuts.

Cream the butter and sugar. Sift the dry ingredients together; add part of the creamed butter and sugar; add the milk and the remainder of the dry ingredients; beat thoroughly; add the flavoring and beat; add a part of the chopped nuts, cut and fold in the whites of the eggs beaten stiff. Turn into tin and add the remainder of the chopped nuts. Bake in a moderate oven thirty-five or forty minutes.

DO PEOPLE FEEL BETTER BECAUSE YOU PASSED BY?

By Bruce Barton

I was in a doctor's office by appointment at five-thirty when his telephone rang. A woman's voice at the other end of the wire asked him to call at the house that eveeing.

His voice betrayed his irritation but he promised to call. Then he snapped the received on the hook and exploded.

"There is a woman who has nothing to do all day but gad about. She just as easily might have called me this morning or early in the afternoon. But, no, she has to put it off and spoil my evening.

"Nobody but a doctor has any idea of how inconsiderate people can be."

On two recent trips with two different men I had an interesting opportunity to contrast their conduct toward their fellow human beings.

One of them had made several million dollars in the past few years. Whenever he entered a dining car or a hotel he wanted everybody to understand that he is rich and important. Waiters dislike him, even though he tips liberally. I sometimes felt embarrassed by his critical demands for attention.

The manner of the other man is the exact reverse. You would never guess that he is a power in world industry. He never gives orders, but makes suggestions or very courteous requests. He seems surprised that anybody should want to do him a favor. He can make a waiter or a station porter feel a new sense of self-respect merely by his smile.

A noted preacher once remarked that one of the finest of all sayings of Jesus is this: "I have compassion on the multitude."

Said the preacher: "Many men can be virtuous. Many can be honest in a hard, self-righteous way. But how many are really considerate? How many feel instinctive respect and sympathy? How many have compassion?"

A lot of twisted standards have somehow grown up in the world. A lot of very righteous people seem to think that a man is good if he does not smoke, does not take a drink, does not do this or that.

These are negative and unimportant. The real mark of a christian and a gentleman is whether he treats other people as he would like to be treated.

Whether they feel better or worse because he has passed by.

"De choir will not sing, 'I'm Glad Salvation Is Free,' while Deacon Jones passes de hat. De congregation will please 'member dat, while salvation am free, we has to pay de choir for singing about it. All will contribute according to his means, an' not for his meanness."

Dear Doctor: "My pet billy goat is seriously ill from eating a complete leather-bound set of Shakespeare. What do you prescribe?"

Answer: "Am sending Literary Digest by return mail."

Mistress: "Mammy, how do you raise your boys so well?"

Mammy: "Ah raises 'em wid a barrel stave, and Ah raises 'em frequently."

The latest definition of a Scotchman: "A guy who, when invited to his friend's house for a drink, eats salted peanuts on the way."

"Are your eggs fresh?"

"Lady the hen don't know I've got them yet."

We'll believe in the day of miracles when somebody makes riding in a rumble seat comfortable.

We often waste our time envying people who would gladly change places with us.

LOWERED RESISTANCE

By John Joseph Gaines, M. D.

I seriously doubt if anybody ever contracts disease when what we call "bodily resistance" is normal. Many of us come in contact with disease germs every day; but because our bodies are functioning normally the infectious germs are unable to find lodging.

The human digestive tract is singularly built to withstand infections. We swallow probably millions of germs, perhaps, in water, milk, raw fruits and other carriers of simple bacteria; these are for the most part promptly destroyed by healthy digestive juices. It is so with domestic animals; they drink and eat much that is impure, yet healthy digestive fluids protect them from disease.

The time, however, when disease producers hop in and make themselves at home is when we are, in general parlance, "run-down" from one cause or another. Over work is a certain invitation to the entrance of disease germs. This means overloading the stomach for protracted periods, wearing down the muscular system by heavy toil, and tearing down the nervous system by consistant grind in these strenuous days. Anything that taxes the system beyond its endurance invites disease, which rarely appears otherwise; so that, when we get sick, we had better cast about for just how we forsook the law of right living.

TUBERCULOSIS

By John Joseph Gaines ,M. D.

My rural readers will pardon me I'm sure, for once more calling their attention to what is still one of man's fiercest, most unrelenting foes; it seems to me that good advice in the presence of an enemy is never out of place.

Thoughtful men have been battling this scourge since the dawn of history; for its annihilation men of great wealth and greater hearts have spent countless millions in research, and the noble work still goes on. Just what measure of success has been achieved may be noted by any observing one who reads; and our more recent decades have been singularly noted for advanced made.

Tuberculosis is a communicable disease. If you never come in contact with it you are fortunate indeed. But contacts in the densely populated districts are often unavoidable; the fog of dust you encounter on the windy thoroughfare may contain many of the death-dealing germs; your resisting power against disease may be low; your own lungs may become infected, especially if you are carrying a colony of influenzal or other baccilli; you never can tell.

Steer clear of the person who coughs without covering the mouth and nose with a handkerchief. Be duly alert against the fellow with a chronic cough, who continually expectorates on the grass under the shade tree, or on the sands of the beach near by. Shun the resorts where "lungers" (poor fellows) abound, if possible; the best precaution you may take is none too good; prevention is many leagues superior to cure.

It is the duty of physicians to survey their clientele with eternal vigilance. Teach them to observe every precaution against scattering or contracting disease. I am sure that proper quarantine—and that only—will end the "white plague" for good and all. Outdoor air is not always pure—indeed far from it in crowded localities, where ignorant victims of disease are carriers and distributors; promiscuous expectoration is a crime.

KNOW TEXAS

Texas has 8,000,000 wild pecan trees with an annual crop of 40,000,000 pounds or 75 per cent of the total produced in the United States. Topping and budding of wild trees would increase the value of the Texas crop to $200,000,000, according to Congressman Buchanan of the Austin district.

Of the 1929 cotton crop totaling 14,821,499 bales, Texas produced 3,940—more than 2,000,000 bales ahead of the next state, Mississippi, with 1,915 bales.

From July 16, 1929—date of the new gasoline tax law going into effect—to May 1, 1930, the State of Texas collected $20,819,388.23 in gasoline taxes. One fourth of it went into the available school fund and the remainder into the highway fund.

The fur crop of Texas last year was valued at $3,000,000. About $2,000,000 of it contributed over $50,000 in taxes to the state, only pelts of certain of the fur-bearing animals being subject to the tax.

Many a good architect has discovered after the honeymoon that his wife could make plans too.

WARREN'S ADDRESS AT BUNKER HILL

By John Pierpont

Stand! the ground's your own, my braves!
Will ye give it up to slaves?
Will ye look for greener graves?
Hope ye mercy still,
What's the mercy despots feel?
Hear it in that battle-peal!
Read it on yon bristling steel!
Ask it,—ye who will.

Fear ye foes who kill for hire?
Will ye to your homes retire?
Look behind you!—they're afire!
And, before you, see
Who have done it! From the vale
On they come—and will ye quail?
Leaden rain and iron hail
Let their welcome be!

In the God of battles trust!
Die we may—and die we must;
But, O, where can dust to dust
Be consigned so well,
As where heaven its dews shall shed
On the martyred patriot's bed,
And the rocks shall raise their head,
Of his deeds to tell?

Don't you think the singer has a wide repertoire?"

"Yes, but it wouldn't show so much if she'd wear a different kind of a dress."

Auto Driver: "Have you some of that gasoline that stops knocking?

Attendant: "Yes, sir."

Auto Driver: "Then, give my wife a glass."

TUBERCULOSIS

By John Joseph Gaines ,M. D.

My rural readers will pardon me I'm sure, for once more calling their attention to what is still one of man's fiercest, most unrelenting foes; it seems to me that good advice in the presence of an enemy is never out of place.

Thoughtful men have been battling this scourge since the dawn of history; for its annihilation men of great wealth and greater hearts have spent countless millions in research, and the noble work still goes on. Just what measure of success has been achieved may be noted by any observing one who reads; and our more recent decades have been singularly noted for advanced made.

Tuberculosis is a communicable disease. If you never come in contact with it you are fortunate indeed. But contacts in the densely populated districts are often unavoidable; the fog of dust you encounter on the windy thoroughfare may contain many of the death-dealing germs; your resisting power against disease may be low; your own lungs may become infected, especially if you are carrying a colony of influenzal or other baccilli; you never can tell.

Steer clear of the person who coughs without covering the mouth and nose with a handkerchief. Be duly alert against the fellow with a chronic cough, who continually expectorates on the grass under the shade tree, or on the sands of the beach near by. Shun the resorts where "lungers" (poor fellows) abound, if possible; the best precaution you may take is none too good; prevention is many leagues superior to cure.

It is the duty of physicians to survey their clientele with eternal vigilance. Teach them to observe every precaution against scattering or contracting disease. I am sure that proper quarantine—and that only—will end the "white plague" for good and all. Outdoor air is not always pure—indeed far from it in crowded localities, where ignorant victims of disease are carriers and distributors; promiscuous expectoration is a crime.

KNOW TEXAS

Texas has 8,000,000 wild pecan trees with an annual crop of 40,000,000 pounds or 75 per cent of the total produced in the United States. Topping and budding of wild trees would increase the value of the Texas crop to $200,000,000, according to Congressman Buchanan of the Austin district.

Of the 1929 cotton crop totaling 14,821,499 bales, Texas produced 3,940—more than 2,000,000 bales ahead of the next state, Mississippi, with 1,915 bales.

From July 16, 1929—date of the new gasoline tax law going into effect—to May 1, 1930, the State of Texas collected $20,819,388.23 in gasoline taxes. One fourth of it went into the available school fund and the remainder into the highway fund.

The fur crop of Texas last year was valued at $3,000,000. About $2,000,000 of it contributed over $50,000 in taxes to the state, only pelts of certain of the fur-bearing animals being subject to the tax.

WARREN'S ADDRESS AT BUNKER HILL

By John Pierpont

Stand! the ground's your own, my braves!
Will ye give it up to slaves?
Will ye look for greener graves?
Hope ye mercy still,
What's the mercy despots feel?
Hear it in that battle-peal!
Read it on yon bristling steel!
Ask it,—ye who will.

Fear ye foes who kill for hire?
Will ye to your homes retire?
Look behind you!—they're afire!
And, before you, see
Who have done it! From the vale
On they come—and will ye quail?
Leaden rain and iron hail
Let their welcome be!

In the God of battles trust!
Die we may—and die we must;
But, O, where can dust to dust
Be consigned so well,
As where heaven its dews shall shed
On the martyred patriot's bed,
And the rocks shall raise their head,
Of his deeds to tell?

Don't you think the singer has a wide repertoire?"

"Yes, but it wouldn't show so much if she'd wear a different kind of a dress."

Auto Driver: "Have you some of that gasoline that stops knocking?

Attendant: "Yes, sir."

Auto Driver: "Then, give my wife a glass."

Dr. Buettner Visits Museum Of P. P. H. S. And Is Surprised At Value of Collections Here

Collector for Michigan University Museum of Paleontology Believes Texas Should Take Active Interest.

Dr. W. H. Buettner, collector for the Museum of Paleontology at the University of Michigan, was a visitor at the Museum of the Panhandle Plains Historical Society last Tuesday. Dr. Buettner expressed his surprise at finding such a splendid museum collection.

"I am startled to find such a splendid neucleus both for a museum collection and for a collection of historical materials as you have here" he said after inspecting the museum collection. "You have something of interest for everyone who is interested in things historic as well as prehistoric."

"For years I have heard Dr. Case who has been coming to Texas for twenty years to speak of the Texas Longhorn. I have had my first opportunity today to see a typical specimen of one. I can tell the people of Michigan now that I have seen a real Longhorn.

"I am glad to learn of the movement you have started for the building of a new museum," he continued. "It should be done. Texas is going to wake up some day to the importance of preserving the great abundance of paleontological and archaeological materials she has all about her. You are close to these materials and can go to them quickly after the erosion after rains has done its work. We can only visit these places annually and at great expense. The people of northwest Texas are sleeping on the job by not taking a more active interest in conserving the vast wealth of materials to be found here.

"If this material is worth thousands of dollars to us why should it not be worth something to you people here where it belongs?"

Dr. E. C. Case, who is director of the Museum of Paleontology of the University of Michigan, has been coming to Texas for the past twenty years. He is working in Europe this year.

Dr. Buettner was accompanied by Floyd V. Studer of Amarillo who is recognized as an authority in the field of paleontology and archaeology. Mr. Studer has one of the finest collections of specimens in these fields to be found anywhere in the southwest and takes an active interest in the work.

Robert Hext, a member of the party, of southwestern New Mexico, is a cattleman. He was also enthusiastic in his praise of the work of the society here and has promised to secure for the organization some very valuable and interesting material.

In Paris they are making jewelry out of rubber. Maybe that's because so many engagement rings bounce back.

"How is your son getting along in college?

"Guess he's O. K. in languages. The bill last month was $10 for Latin, $10 for Greek and $100 for Scotch."

THE GREAT AMERICAN HOME

FACULTY WILL GIVE COMEDY AS LYCEUM

MISS GOODMAN IS DIRECTOR OF "THE FIRST YEAR"; C. W. BATCHELDER WILL PLAY THE MALE LEAD.

Coming as a pleasant surprise is the announcement of a play, "The First Year," a three act light comedy, to be presented by members of the faculty this summer.

No definate date has been set for the presentation other than that it will be within the next three weeks. The cast has not yet been announced. Miss Novella Goodman is directing, and it is understood that Mr. Batchelder of the Public Speaking department will play the male lead.

The play will be given in the auditorium of the Education building and will take the place of the scheduled lyceum number. Those holding blanket tax tickets will be admitted upon presenting same. A ticket sales campaign is to be inaugurated soon and a prize of $5.00 given the person selling the greatest number of the cardboards.

There is to be found ample talent in the faculty for the making of this play. It was written by Frank Cravens, a playwright of considerable renown, and has enjoyed immense success, wining the reputaiont of being highly entertaining and void of dull moments so derogatory to the pleasure of the theatrical patron.

George Eastman gave away a million kodaks when his company celebrated its fiftieth anniversary. Wonder if Ford will do the same thing when his flivver factory is that old?

CHICKEN INSPECTION

In a certain district of Columbia, South America, every chicken killed must be presented to government authorities for inspection.

This is not a health measure, such as governs the sanitary slaughter of food animals in this country, but is a requirement to prevent the chicken owner from coming into unauthorized possession of any stray emeralds which may happen to be found in the bird's gizzard.

For this section is located the only emerald producing territory in the southern continent, and fowls often pick up the precious stones in preference to ordinary gravel.

An American company is conducting emerald mining operations in Columbia, using the primitive methods employed by the early Spaniards, because the region is so inaccessible as to make the transportation of modern equipment too costly.

However, recovery of emeralds by the chicken method is only a minor phase of the enterprise.

SMITH IN STATEMENT ABOUT COUNTY TAXES

I am not sore. I am not disappointed and I haven't been double crossed. Everyone knew when I announced that the lines were already drawn, and I made it plain to everyone that I never wanted public office. Many of the home owners knew that our precinct has been discriminated against on taxes for years, and what is everybody's business is nobody's business; so I consented to be the goat and chose this opportunity to make a full investigation of tax assessments in the various precincts, and to discuss the findings with as many home owners as practicable. About two-thirds of the voters of the county live in this precinct, and about ninety-percent of the property here belongs to people who live here trying to carry on and build up the town and county generally while fully seventy-five percent of the property in other sections of the county belong to wealthy non-residents. I don't think because they are wealthy or because they are non-residents they should pay more taxes than we, but I do think they should pay as much.

On an average our precinct is paying two to two and half, and in many instances more than five times as much on equal values as in other sections of the county. Of course, this condition should not exist as it is hampering building and practically stopped investments here. If we get public sentiment aroused, we can demand the relief we are morally and legally entitled to. Of course the tax assessor is helpless as the Commissioners' Court, sitting as a board of equalization, may raise or lower assessments as they choose. So that's that; is it food for thought or is it?

A. M. SMITH.

THANK YOU FRIENDS

I very much appreciate the support given me in Saturday's primary election, by friends and voters known and unknown, and I sincerely congratulate my opponents who will be in the run-off for Tax Assessor.

MOST GIRLS WOULD WED

Marriage is the final ambition of 82 per cent of all girls up to the age of 35 in the business world according to a household research bureau which has been investigating the subject. It is also disclosed that their activities and earnings in business lead these girls to higher standards of living after marriage.

A survey among 500 women employees in New York shows that after three years' employment their average earnings are $33.50 a week, of which $7.56 is spent for clothes, $9.53 is given to dependents and charity, $11.66 goes for other expenses and $4.75 is saved.

Habits of thrift acquired early in the employed woman's life are reflected in increased family income, with better homes, better food, clothing, automobiles and opportunities for travel.

It has been found that of the 572 gainful occupations in the United States, women are employed in all but 35, more than 570,000 being in business in New York City alone.

Yet in spite of the independence which their employment gives, most of them would look with favor upon matrimony, even though many would have to continue to earn money after marriage. Fortunately for mere man, women are like that.

A STRAY PUP'S FRIEND

What does a stray pup amount to, anyway? What does it matter if a helpless animal is abused and tortured to make sport for a gang of thoughtless boys? Who would care?

We have read a pleasing fstory of one small boy who cared, and thereby making a friend who did not forget.

Some years ago a kindly man named Jacob Siler, while walking along the Mississippi River band near St. Louis, came upon a group of boys who were amusing themselves by throwing a stray pup into the river time after time in spite of the protests of one small companion. Finally the pup's defender engaged the others in fistic combat to save the wretched animal from being drowned.

Just then Mr. Siler approached and commended the plucky lad, whose name was Otto Schmidt. As a result a lifelong friendship between the two began. Some time ago Siler died and left $7,500 to the boy, now a man, whose humane instincts and courage had saved the poor pup and won the admiration of a casual witness of his act.

Those who befriend unfortunate animals do not always receive material rewards such as came to Otto Schmidt, but they may have the reward of an approving conscience, which should be recompense enough.

SMITH IN STATEMENT ABOUT COUNTY TAXES

I am not sore. I am not disappointed and I haven't been double crossed. Everyone knew when I announced that the lines were already drawn, and I made it plain to everyone that I never wanted public office. Many of the home owners knew that our precinct has been discriminated against on taxes for years, and what is everybody's business is nobody's business; so I consented to be the goat and chose this opportunity to make a full investigation of tax assessments in the various precincts, and to discuss the findings with as many home owners as practicable. About two-thirds of the voters of the county live in this precinct, and about ninety-percent of the property here belongs to people who live here trying to carry on and build up the town and county generally while fully seventy-five percent of the property in other sections of the county belong to wealthy non-residents. I don't think because they are wealthy or because they are non-residents they should pay more taxes than we, but I do think they should pay as much.

On an average our precinct is paying two to two and half, and in many instances more than five times as much on equal values as in other sections of the county. Of course, this condition should not exist as it is hampering building and practically stopped investments here. If we get public sentiment aroused, we can demand the relief we are morally and legally entitled to. Of course the tax assessor is helpless as the Commissioners' Court, sitting as a board of equalization, may raise or lower assessments as they choose. So that's that; is it food for thought or is it?

A. M. SMITH.

THANK YOU FRIENDS

I very much appreciate the support given me in Saturday's primary election, by friends and voters known and unknown, and I sincerely congratulate my opponents who will be in the run-off for Tax Assessor.

SONG OF MARION'S MEN

(1780-1781)

By William Cullen Bryant

Our band is few, but true and tried
Our leader frank and bold;
The British soldiers tremble
When Marion's name is told.
Our fortress is the good greenwood.
Our tent the cypress-tree.
We know the forest round us.
As seamen know the sea.
We know its walls of thorny vines,
Its glades of reedy grass,
Its safe and silent islands
Within the dark morass.

Woe to the English soldiery
That little dream us near!
On them shall light at midnight
A strange and sudden fear:
They grasp their arms in vain,
And they who stand to face us
Are beat to earth again;
And they who fly in terror deem
A mighty host behind,
And hear the tramp of thousands
Upon the hollow wind.

Well knows the fair and friendly moon
The band that Marion leads—
The glitter of their rifles,
The scampering of their steeds.
'Tis life to feel the night-wind
That lifts his tossing mane.
A moment in the British camp—
A moment—and away,
Back to the pathless forest
Before the peep of day.

Grave men there are by broad Santee,
Grave men with hoary hairs;
Their hearts are all with Marion
For Marion are their prayers,
And lively ladies greet our band
With kindliest welcoming,
With smiles like those of summer,
And tears like those of spring.
For them we wear these trusty arms,
And lay them down no more
Till we have driven the Briton,
Forever, from our shore.

Its glades of reedy grass,
Its safe and silent islands
Within the dark morass.

Woe to the English soldiery
That little dream us near!
On them shall light at midnight
A strange and sudden fear:
They grasp their arms in vain,
And they who stand to face us
Are beat to earth again;
And they who fly in terror deem
A mighty host behind,
And hear the tramp of thousands
Upon the hollow wind.

Well knows the fair and friendly moon
The band that Marion leads—
The glitter of their rifles,
The scampering of their steeds.
'Tis life to feel the night-wind
That lifts his tossing mane.
A moment in the British camp—
A moment—and away,
Back to the pathless forest
Before the peep of day.

Grave men there are by broad Santee,
Grave men with hoary hairs;
Their hearts are all with Marion
For Marion are their prayers,
And lively ladies greet our band
With kindliest welcoming,
With smiles like those of summer,
And tears like those of spring.
For them we wear these trusty arms,
And lay them down no more
Till we have driven the Briton,
Forever, from our shore.

KNOCKING THE GOVERNMENT

The world is full of people who try to blame their own unsuccess, unhappiness or incompetence upon somebody else. Everybody knows somebody like that. They are the same sort of people who are always "agin the government." The market for crops is good or bad because the Government at Washington is Republican or Democratic. Business is slow because the President did this or didn't do that. Let a few banks fail and immediately some of the chronic kickers rush to the front with the explanation that the Federal Reserve System is a failure.

Fair criticism of the government is entirely proper and within the rights of every citizen. The tendency to hold the Government responsible for everything unpleasant without ever giving it credit when conditions are satisfactory is, however just another manifestation of the childish impulse to shift the blame from one's own shoulders to that of somebody else.

The very people who make the most fuss about the Government's "failure" when things are not going to please them, would be the first to protest if the Federal Government should undertake to actually run the business of the Nation. The last thing that the vast majority of Americans want is a paternal government. We as a people firmly believe in the dictum, attributed to Thomas Jefferson, that, that government is best which governs the least. It is probably true that most of the loose criticism of the Government is merely a form of "letting off steam." It doesn't hurt the government any and it relieves the emotional strain of the person doing this criticising.

This year everybody is going to hear a great deal of criticism and defense of the Government. We are electing members of the next Congress, one-third of the Senators and Governors and other officials of more than half of the states. Candidates and their friends are going to tell us how different things would be if they were in instead of the ones who are in, or how foolish it would be to put the other fellows in when they have made such good records. All that signifies, for the greater part, is the desire of the "ins" to stay in and of the "outs" to get in.

The only persons who will be fooled are the simple-minded ones who really think that the Government can change economic conditions over night and at will. All any Government at Washington can do, all it ought to try to do, is to remove any obstacles that exist to the free flow of business and industry, to the right of every American citizen to work out his own individual salvation, economically and otherwise, in his own way, so long as he does not infringe upon the right of any other citizen to do the same thing.

Be it resolved by the Legislature of the State of Texas:

Section 1. That Section 11 of Article VII of the Constitution of the State of Texas be amended so as to read as follows:

Section 11. In order to enable the Legislature to perform the duties set forth in the foregoing section, it is hereby declared all lands and other property heretofore set apart and appropriated for the establishment and maintenance of the University of Texas, together with all the proceeds of sales of the same, heretofore made or hereafter to be made, and all grants, donations and appropriations that may hereafter be made by the State of Texas, or from any other source, shall constitute and become a permanent university fund. And the same as realized and received into the Treasury of the State (together with such sums belonging to the fund, as may now be in the Treasury,) shall be invested in bonds of the United States, the State of Texas or counties of said State, or in school bonds of municipalities, or in bonds of any city of this State, or in obligations and pledges issued by the Board of Regents of the University of Texas, or secured by such obligations and pledges, for the construction of dormitories and other buildings for the use of the University of Texas, or in bonds issued under and by virtue of the Federal Farm Loan Act approved by the President of the United States, July 17, 1916, and amendments thereto; and the interest accruing thereon shall be subject to appropriation by the Legislature to accomplish the purpose declared in the foregoing section; provided, that the one-tenth of the alternate sections of the lands granted to railroads, reserved by the State which were set apart and appropriated to the establishment of the University of Texas, by an Act of the Legislature of February 11, 1858, entitled, "An Act to establish 'the University of Texas,' shall not be included in, or constitute a part of the permanent university fund."

OBERST GIVES Ph. D. THESIS TO LIBRARY

W. T. GRADUATE IS AMONG FIRST OF EXES TO COMPLETE WORK FOR DOCTOR'S; IS AT IOWA UNIVERSITY.

The Library of the West Texas State Teachers College recently received a copy of the thesis by Fred W. Oberst which was submitted in partial fulfillment of the requirements for the Degree of Doctor of Philosophy in the department of chemistry in the graduate college of the State University of Iowa.

The thesis is the result of a research study of the effect of substitutents in the formation of stereoisomeric aldoximes. The work was directed by Professor Chas. L. Raiford of the University of Iowa. The thesis contains specific methods for inversion and determination of configuration with a statement of the problem and suggestions for further work, discussion and results, and all summary and conclusions.

The biography of author in the latter part of the publication is of interest to the West Texas State Teachers Colege. Mr. Oberst moved to Canyon at the age of six years. He received his elementary, high school, and four years of college training in Canyon. He received his B. A. degree from W. T. in 1927. In 1927-28 he held a scholarship in chemistry at the University of Iowa. The following year he was half-time instructor in the chemistry department and during 1929-30 he held a fellowship.

Mr. Oberst is graduate member of the Southern States Scholarship Society, a member of Phi Lamba Upsilon, the Sigma Xi Society, and the American Chemical Society. He is one of the first graduates of W. T. to receive his Doctor's degree.

Student Returns After 8 Years as Member of Faculty

Returning to an educational institution as a member of the faculty after spending one's youth in that institution as a student is perhaps a partial realization of many a young man's dream.

So it is with Horace Morelock who as a youngester solved the problems of boyhood on and about the campus of West Texas and, in his more serious moods, thought of a day when he would assume the dignity of an instructor in those vast halls where mature people gathered, discussing problems that left him all at sea. It was not only the responsibilities of instructorship that had drawing power, for Bus admits that there was an idea of atonement for all the injustices he had suffered at the hands of crue l and haughty teachers. However, being on the other side of the bench has clarified and made rational the acts of those teachers.

Ordinarily, in returning to the scenes of one's childhood, one finds the objects of his most vivid memories have deteriorated, for the eyes of youth exaggerate tremendously, retain last impressions until they are sorrowfully cast away because of new views brought about by age and experience.

But such does not hold true with Bus Morelock, who in returning to W T as a member of the English department, finds many improvements have taken place with the passing of years. He has enjoyed renewing friendships of his own and acquaintances of his family. He is, especially, enjoying his work with Dr. McColley and other faculty members.

Bus completes his four years of work in the Law School at Texas University next spring after which he contemplates taking the Law Course at Harvard University before entering the law profession.

WHEN FOOD SOURS

ABOUT two hours after eating many people suffer from sour stomachs. They call it indigestion. It means that the stomach nerves have been over-stimulated. There is excess acid. The way to correct it is with an alkali, which neutralizes many times its volume in acid.

The right way is Phillips Milk of Magnesia—just a tasteless dose in water. It is pleasant, efficient and harmless. Results come almost instantly. It is the approved method. You will never use another when you know.

Be sure to get the genuine Phillips Milk of Magnesia prescribed by physicians for correcting excess acids. 25c and 50c a bottle—any drugstore.

"Milk of Magnesia" has been the U. S. Registered Trade Mark of the Charles H. Phillips Chemical Company and its predecessor Charles H. Phillips since 1875.

How Cheap Electricity Really Is

The average American family uses 10 cents worth of electricity a day. For the average family—

10c buys the clothing for only	2 hours

Texas Utilities Residential Customers Use 11.5 Per Cent More Than Last Year

Residential customers of the Texas Utilities are more and more realizing the economy, comfort and convenience of using electricity freely. They now use 11.5 per cent more than a year ago —for lighting, for cooking, for toasting, for ironing, for cooling, for cleaning, for numberless tasks.

On the low energy rate, electricity for the numerous uses and appliances is really very cheap, and customers are encouraged to use it freely.

WHEN FOOD SOURS

ABOUT two hours after eating many people suffer from sour stomachs. They call it indigestion. It means that the stomach nerves have been over-stimulated. There is excess acid. The way to correct it is with an alkali, which neutralizes many times its volume in acid.

The right way is Phillips Milk of Magnesia—just a tasteless dose in water. It is pleasant, efficient and harmless. Results come almost instantly. It is the approved method. You will never use another when you know.

Be sure to get the genuine Phillips Milk of Magnesia prescribed by physicians for correcting excess acids. 25c and 50c a bottle—any drugstore.

"Milk of Magnesia" has been the U. S. Registered Trade Mark of the Charles H. Phillips Chemical Company and its predecessor Charles H. Phillips since 1875.

Have you ever thought

How Cheap Electricity Really Is

and how hard it would be to get along without it?

The average American family uses 10 cents worth of electricity a day. For the average family—

10c buys the food for only .... 1 hour
10c pays the rent for only .... 1½ hours
10c buys the clothing for only .... 2 hours
10c runs the automobile for only .... 2 miles
...But...
10c buys the Electricity for .... 24 HOURS

Use electricity freely. It saves your eyes, your health, your strength, your time . . . And it costs so little.

Texas Utilities Residential Customers Use 11.5 Per Cent More Than Last Year

Residential customers of the Texas Utilities are more and more realizing the economy, comfort and convenience of using electricity freely. They now use 11.5 per cent more than a year ago—for lighting, for cooking, for toasting, for ironing, for cooling, for cleaning, for numberless tasks.

On the low energy rate, electricity for the numerous uses and appliances is really very cheap, and customers are encouraged to use it freely.
